Jews Suffer While Police Stand By And Watch The Proceedings With Little Interest In The Probable Outcome.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Bialystok, Russia, June 15.—As far as can now be ascertained but thirty Jews were actually killed in yesterday's anti-Jew riots, although many others were so badly injured they will probably die. The exact number of dead can not now be ascertained, owing to the fact many of the seriously wounded were concealed by their friends.

Hospitals Full

All the hospitals are full of wounded, while many private houses are also filled with wounded who are being concealed by their friends. While the assaults were in progress yesterday many Jews fled the city and it is alleged that the police and soldiers offered them no protection whatever.

Loot the Shops

All the Jewish shops on four principal streets were looted and sacked, the contents being almost all destroyed or carried away by the mob which appeared to be beyond control of the officials. Frightful outrages were perpetrated upon Jews who were captured and the death list will be much larger than is now reported.

Armed Truce

This morning an armed truce exists and no civilians are allowed to leave their houses until peace has been restored. Large bodies of troops and police patrol the streets keeping close guard on everything and the mob leaders are hidden.

RAILROADS PRONE TO IGNORE 2-CENT FARE REGULATION

West Virginia Law Went into Effect Today—Traveling Salesmen And Others Ready To Fight For Enforcement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Richmond, Va., June 15.—This is the date set for the two-cent rate for five hundred and one thousand mile tickets, as demanded in a law enacted by the last Virginia general assembly, to go into effect. Reports from various quarters give evidence of a disposition on the part of the railroads to ignore the new law. On the other hand the commercial travelers' organizations and others interested will demand that the roads comply with the new rate law and in the event of the latter's refusal will take the matter into the courts. The roads are to be assailed on all sides—protest against payment of the old rates, protest against detaching mileage coupons to pay for transportation at a greater rate than two cents a mile, declaration to pay more than two cents a mile and refusal to get off the train, thereby forcing the conductors to eject them.

Washington, June 15.—This was the date originally fixed for the opening of the Shoshone Indian reservation in Wyoming, but, as announced some time since, the government has deemed it advisable to postpone the opening for two months. The decision to defer the opening was due chiefly to the fact that railroad accommodations to the new lands were lacking. The Northwestern and other roads are now pushing their lines into the reservation and expect to have them completed and ready for the rush of home-seekers before the middle of August.

ROOSEVELT HAS GIVEN A LETTER

Tells Congressional Committee Their Idea Of Packers' Law Is All Wrong.

IT WOULD MEAN NO IMPROVEMENT

The President Does Not Mince Any Matters As Regards The Conditions That Exist And Would Continue On New Laws.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, D. C., June 15.—Secretary Loeb today gave out the following summary of a letter President Roosevelt wrote to Chairman Wadsworth of the house committee on agriculture, disapproving of that committee's substitute for the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural bill regarding the inspection of meat products. "In a letter to Wadsworth the President stated that every change in the proposed house amendment was a change for the worse as compared with the senate amendment and that no matter how unintentionally it was in the President's judgment, it was framed as to minimize the chance of rooting out the evils in the packing business; that the President felt it would doubtless suit these packers who object to a thorough-going inspection, but that he also felt it would in the long run be a heavy blow to the honest stock-raiser and honest packer; that the proposed amendment would gravely hamper the secretary of agriculture in doing the work appointed him to do, and would simply defer the day when we could restore foreign and interstate trade on meat to a satisfactory position. MAY KEEP FEES IN ILLINOIS

STATE'S ATTORNEYS ENTITLED TO EMOLUMENTS.Supreme Court Holds Cook County Officials in Same Class with Others in the State.Springfield, Ill., June 15.—The Illinois supreme court Thursday night handed down a decision in the Healy fee case in which the finding of the lower court is sustained. This decision will permit State's Attorney Healy, of Cook county, to collect fees on cases tried by him and Gov. Deneen to retain those collected during his term as Cook county state's attorney.The effect of the opinion will be to stop the movement to dispossess Gov.
Deneen of something like $250,000 said to have been collected by him during two terms of four years each as prosecuting attorney in the county of Cook.
The supreme court declares unconstitutional section two of the act of 1901, which undertook to fix the salary of the state's attorney in Cook county at $100,000 a year.The court holds that the officer is entitled to the same salary, fees, and emoluments paid to state's attorneys in other counties.The court admits that the practice of permitting the state's attorney to retain the fees is in conflict with what appears to be the general purpose of the constitution.The supreme court also handed down a decision in the Hudsonson will case which has been prominently mentioned of late in connection with the recent Illinois supreme court "mystery" and in which it was said, an alleged attempt had been made to change the opinion of the court. The supreme court affirms the judgment of the Clay county circuit court, breaking the will bequeathing $100,000 to the Ewing college for boys at Ewing, Ill., and the American Baptist Missionary society of Boston.

EVER SEEN IN CITYCarl Hagenbeck's Show One of the Best-Equipped That Ever Visited Janesville.Janesville is visited today by one of the finest-equipped circuses that has ever visited the city. In the Carl Hagenbeck Greater Shows the jaded tastes of the habitual circus-goers are given a treat that is not usual. Despite rain and adverse conditions a parade was given this morning that more than came up to the expectations. The show is a circus, not an animal show, as many have been led to believe from the name Hagenbeck.
It travels in the best of cars and railroad men of long standing state that it is the best-equipped road show that has ever pulled into the local yards. In horseless it is surpassed by none of the shows of recent years.
Bill Scott, twenty years ago a resident of Janesville, former employee of Burr Robbins, who counts his friends in Janesville by the score, has charge of this department and it is his special care to see that the stock is what it should be, the best on the road. Dapple greys are his favorite and as team after team of six, eight or four horses drove by this morning bursts of applause were heard on every side. The sixteen elephants with the genuine Indian Empire residents seated on their heads and the wagons with more of the same, mysterious people all caused an excitement wherever they were seen. The camels and dromedaries did not look imagined-out and the zebras and sacred cattle were plump and fat. Good bands gave excellent music and Uncle Sam
and his wife in their rustic outfit fooled at least one police officer at the corner of Milwaukee and Main streets. Even the men with the show are a clean-looking lot of fellows.
They do their work with a vim that denotes an interest and good treatment. At the "lot" this morning the absence of oaths in having the work on hand completed was noted and the speed with which matters were handled, the able way in which the ground was staked off, the big menagerie top rose as though by magic,
the side show, the cook tent, the horse tent, the main tops and the dressing rooms went up, showed that old showmen had charge of the affair. The performance itself is well worthy of mention. Complete in all its details with the addition of a superb menagerie of rare wild animals it is one of the cleanest and best shows that has been seen here for many years. The men at the head of the attraction are gentlemen and Mr. Thompson, the manager, has his wife with him for a few weeks. Her weather kept many away this afternoon, but tonight's performance should be crowded.THOMAS OAKLEY WAS SUMMONED BY DEATHWell-Known Resident of Rock County After Long Illness DiedLast Evening.

IS KILLED IN KANSASMichael Conway, Who Was Run Down
by Cars at Attica, Kas., May 30, Said Wife Lived in Janesville.In a letter from J. P. Ryan of Attica, Kansas, City Marshal Appleby has received notification of the fatal accident on the railroad tracks which befell a man named Michael Conway, who, just before he died, made a statement that he had a wife living in Janesville, Wis. Up to this morning the police had not been able to locate his wife. The man was run down by the cars on May 30. His body was terribly crushed and mutilated, but he lived for a half hour after the tragedy. The burial took place at Attica. The writer describes Conway as a man about 40 years of age, 5 feet and 7 inches tall, dark hair, gray blue eyes, rather sparely built, and bearing a long scar under his chin.
He wore No. 7 shoes and was suspected to be a railroad man as several switch keys of various roads were found on his person. He was well dressed and the body was clean and tidy. There was a small sum of money in the pockets of his clothes.

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN

CHAPTER VIII.

Here is the florist smiling at you;
Life to him has a rosy hue.
This man of flowery speech who knows,
That paint will not improve the rose.

"In regard to paint," said he, "I think,
It don't compare with printers' ink.
The sign-board plan of the present day,
In certain lines of trade may pay."

"But the average merchant who has tried,
Both sign-boards and the Classified;
Will say the best and cheapest way,
Is a Gazette want ad; every day."

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, June 15, 1866.—Great Fenian Mass Meeting in Milwaukee.—There was a large Fenian Mass Meeting on Market Square, Milwaukee, on Wednesday night, at which stirring speeches were made by the leading men among the Fenians, and a series of resolutions passed of which the following is the last: Whereas, Our leaders have been arrested, the enemies of our organization have asserted the cause of our people was dead, we take this opportunity to state that the Fenians still live, and will until the object for which it has been organized shall be accomplished, and that we shall ever remember with pride the Republican Congress of 1866.

Conclusion of The Perry Trial. Disagreement of the Jury.—The case of the State vs. Perry, which has been pending for the past few days, was given to the jury yesterday afternoon about five o'clock. They were out all night, but failed to agree and when they were brought into court give them a call.

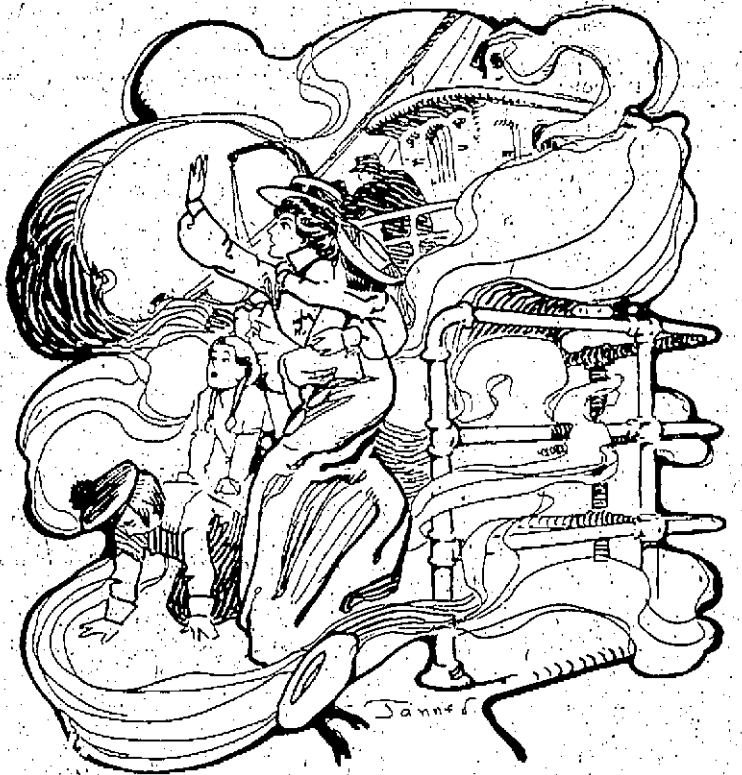

this morning, they so stated to the Judge and were discharged. The condition of the jury in regard to this case is very much that of the community at large who have read or heard the testimony. The sympathies of the people were very generally with Captain Perry, as was quite evident.

A New Thing.—Messrs. Jackson and Randall, two young gentlemen of enterprise and ability, have recently opened in this city a patent right and general agencies office. They buy and sell patent rights on commission and attend to all business agency for the latest and best books, maps and pictures, both photographs and steel engravings. One branch of the business consists in selling patented articles, of which they have some excellent ones, among which we notice a corn cultivator which is hard to beat. They propose to employ from fifty to one hundred agents. Those who have anything to do in the line of these gentlemen should not fail to when they were brought into court give them a call.

FREAKS IN HENS.

Legs of Unequal Length Keep Jersey Farmer's Fowl Home.

Charles Spencer of Newton, Sussex county, N. J., had been troubled greatly by his neighbors' chickens scratching in his garden, so he set to work some time ago to devise a hen that could not scratch or wander away from its own yard. After many discouragements he claims to have produced a number of hens with one leg shorter than the other by the crossing of Plymouth Rocks and bantams, says the New York World.

These hens, he asserts, have a right leg six inches long and a left leg but four inches. They are unable to wander any distance from the coop owing to their inability to take steps of the same length with both legs. Instead they walk around in a circle.

Another Sussex county man says a Plymouth Rock hen recently hatched out a brood of eleven chickens which instead of walking like ordinary chickens hop like sparrows. He explains this peculiarity by the fact that during the period of incubation the mother hen was viciously attacked by a flock of sparrows.

Aside from furnishing a remarkable example of parental influence the case of the hopping chickens is calculated to furnish a strong argument for those who contend that the hen that hatches the egg, and not the one that lays it is the real mother of the chicken.

Pope Pius is said to be the first pontiff of the Roman Catholic church to indulge in cigars, his predecessors, notably Pius IX. and Leo XIII., having contented themselves with snuff.

NEW PSYCHICAL RESEARCH.

American Institute to Investigate "Different Phenomena" Carefully.

Dr. James H. Hyslop, head of the American Institute for Scientific Research, announced recently that Dr. James Putnam, neurologist of Harvard university; the Rev. Dr. Minor J. Savage and the Rev. Dr. R. Hober Newton had been elected members of the board of trustees of the institute, which hereafter will make greater strides in psychical research in America, says the New York Tribune.

The American institute will investigate two types of psychology, those called abnormal psychology and super-normal psychology. The objects of study in the first division will include neurosthenia, and mental troubles. The second line of research will include hallucinations of a healthy mind. The abnormal psychology, it is expected, will need the greater amount of funds, as it is intended eventually to have a hospital where patients will be treated. There has never been any investigation of cases coming under that category in the United States; Dr. Hyslop said.

It is also the object of the institute to investigate the cases of the blind in asylums and to study certain types of visual sensations and see what can be made of the machinery of hallucinations. The loss of one sense, it is held, accentuates the others, and this will also be studied. The deaf and dumb will also be studied for audior hallucinations and the insane for various mental vagaries.

The institute intends to hold clinics in certain hospitals which have promised to allow them room to treat these cases. Ultimately a hospital will be created for the institute's own work. Several professional men are said to be back of the movement who at present desire their names to remain secret.

Dr. Hyslop in speaking of what a mental suggestion may do told of a recent experience of his in the New York subway with an intoxicated man. The man, he said, was angry and unruly, but Dr. Hyslop said he beckoned to him and sat beside him and by patting him, and mental suggestion quieted him so that he left the train in good humor. This, he said, was merely suggestion and not hypnotism. Speaking about hypnotism, Dr. Hyslop said that the institute could definitely settle the question whether a man under hypnotic influence could be made to perform a criminal action or even to kill. He said he doubted if a subject could be made to do such acts. He told of his own son, who, he said, when under hypnotic influence, hesitated to do anything absurd or ridiculous.

"Silence is the best course for any man to adopt who distrusts himself"—and for a merchant to adopt in regard to his store if he distrusts that!

Senator McGillivray is in Milwaukee on politics, and he don't care who knows it.

The Michigan Mutual Life Insurance company is doing a stunt in Wisconsin and may lose out in the end.

The scrap over the Marquette post-office seems to have settled down to a fight between the two United States senators. La Follette deserves defeat for interference.

The populists of Nebraska are also out for Bryan, and will endorse him at their state convention next month. Watterson and Vilas, et al, will be associated with a choice aggregation when the returns are all in.

Mr. Hearst seems to be the only democrat, just now, who is a sticker for principle. He proposes to support Bryan if his principles are sound. It is gratifying to know that the party has a guardian.

The business men of Appleton have organized a protective association against all advertising schemes, except newspapers. The city of Lowell, Mass., has a similar organization, and other cities are discussing a similar movement.

The prohibitionists evidently have no use for the primary law. They have taken time by the forelock and nominated Rev. E. L. Eaton, formerly of Janesville, to head the ticket for governor. The persistence of the prohibition party is worthy of a cause of greater possibilities.

Judge Timlin of Milwaukee, also spoke. In his address at the Ripon college, the other day, he managed to prove that he is all kinds of a pessimist, and was evidently suffering from an acute attack of indigestion. Cheer up, Judge, the Milwaukee slaughter houses are all right!

DON'T GET RATTLED.

The general stampede now going on in the ranks of the democratic party, coupled with the reform epidemic which is sweeping over the country like a tidal wave, is creating more or less uneasiness in the minds of a good many republicans, and some of them are so disturbed that they are ready to admit defeat before the battle is on.

The sober second thought will convince any thinking man that there is no occasion for alarm. United democracy has seldom proved a formidable opponent, and Bryanism, when thoroughly organized, will represent less, in numerical strength, than old time democracy.

Socialism is stronger today than at any time in the history of the nation, and the recruits for the party are largely enlisted from the ranks of the democratic party.

Many changes are liable to occur before the campaign of 1908. Needed reforms will be established, and a tide of common sense will submerge much that is erratic in the way of revolution. The republican party will present a united front, and retain the prestige which it has so long enjoyed.

There is no occasion for worry or anxiety. The slaughter houses of Chicago will be cleaned, while the slaughter houses nearer home will continue to do business without criticism, in the good old-fashioned way. Chicago filth was never very inviting, but any other kind of dirt is a wholesome appetizer.

The railroads will be regulated to the satisfaction of all concerned, while the Standard Oil company will bore another well or two, if the supply runs short. George F. Griggs, of the Evening Wisconsin, takes a hopeful view of the situation when he says:

"McGillivray is at the Plister and Connor is at the Plankinton. Fear and Ekern are at the St. Charles. Houser is at Madison. La Follette is in Washington and God reigns on high. The country is safe."

ANY PORT IN A STORM.

The conservative element of the democratic party is up against a hard proposition. Defeated in every effort to hold the old organization together, and fully realizing the hopelessness of the fight, a flag of truce announces the death struggle and complete surrender to Bryanism.

It is a little amusing to note some of the reasons given for the new alignment by men who have so long opposed the Nebraska statesman. Colonel Vilas has made the discovery that Mr. Bryan's letters from abroad possess the ring of sound conservatism.

These letters have been published in Mr. Bryan's own paper, "The Commoner." They possess so little merit and so little that is new that they are not copied, or even referred to by any other publication.

The fact is that the average school boy, out on the same kind of a trip, could duplicate Mr. Bryan's productions, and an ordinary writer could sit down at home with an encyclopedia and discount the stories from a news standpoint.

The "conservatism" which Mr. Vilas discovers, must have been developed with a spy glass. It is certainly not apparent to normal vision. Mr. Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, the man who has written more caustic criticism on Bryan than any man in the country, and a democrat of the moss-back type, abandons all hope, and swings into line for the "cross of gold" candidate.

Mr. Watterson has also had a revelation, and his mental vision pictures the Bryan of today as a wise statesman and a conservative leader. He thinks that ten years have wrought a wonderful change in the man, who captured the Chicago convention and has since demoralized the party. With Watterson, the tail has gone with the hide, and "any port in a storm" seems to be a desirable refuge.

The Milwaukee Journal is another candidate to the new faith, and the Journal has it bad. The paper is in a forgiving mood, ready to forget the past and lead the fight for the man who has been cleverly denounced as anything but a democrat.

And so it goes all along the line. The original Bryan men find it difficult to keep up with the procession. Democracy is evidently a thing of the past, and Bryanism has come to stay.

The Chicago Chronicle, long democratic, but now staunchly republican, takes a hopeful view of the situation, and says:

"In looking around for a presidential candidate our democratic friends have clearly overlooked a brilliant possibility. Why should they not nominate the Honorable Horace Greeley? It is true that Mr. Greeley is dead, but he is no 'deadhead' than the statesman upon whom the democrats are uniting as their standard-bearer and Greeley, though dead, could not be beaten worse than Bryan, living, would be. Up with the banner, therefore! Greeley for president; if he is desired to make the mortuary flavor complete, Bryan for vice-president."

PRESS COMMENT.

Back To The Dish-Pan. Baltimore Sun: The Mrs. Smoots will soon have the senator at home to help wash the dishes.

No Defense For Him. Richmond Journal: The anarchist is the fanatical enemy of all law and is entitled to the protection of none.

Good! Rockford Register-Gazette: After we get the packing houses investigated let's inspect the laundries. How they do chew up our shirts.

Flat-Dweller's Paeon. Exchange: It is a jewel of a janitor who does not let the steam-heat plant get out of repair during the summer months.

Just What Dems Want. Chicago News: In their efforts to get the nomination neither Mr. Fairbanks nor Mr. Shaw need fear any opposition on the part of the democrats.

Eyes That Magnify. Superior Telegram: General Funston's report that only two looters were shot in San Francisco emphasizes again the tendency of eye witnesses in time of great stress to see things that do not happen.

Kansas Who Refused A Senatorship. Milwaukee Sentinel: If Mr. Coburn had held back his declination a few days longer his scrap book could have been immeasurably enriched. The paragraphs were just getting to work on his whiskers.

Roosevelt Paused A Moment. La Crosse Leader-Press: President Roosevelt was able to spare a few minutes from his strenuous duty of purifying the meat and curbing the trusts, to accelerate the trip of a condemned murderer to the electric chair.

Protection Guaranteed. Philadelphia Ledger: "I suppose it's always hog-killing time in your town, Miss Packer?" sneered the New Yorker.

"Oh, yes," replied the fair visitor from Cincinnati, "but don't let that keep you from visiting us. We always protect our guests."

Simple And Reasonable Explanation. Philadelphia Inquirer: "Many a man who would not be trusted to run a freight locomotive at the rate of fifteen miles an hour is considered, and considers himself, perfectly competent to run an automobile fifty miles an hour—and that is the explanation of many an automobile accident."

Right Next To Snare-Drum. Detroit Free Press: The Bryan band wagon is now on the move, and democrats all over the country are tumbling over each other in their haste to get on to it. The Milwaukee Journal has already got a seat near the snare drum.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN
THE GRADUATES

HIGH SCHOOL, DAYS OF FORTY-EIGHT YOUNG PEOPLE ENDED.

CLASS SONG WAS CATCHY

Commencement at the high school closed last evening with graduation exercises—graduation night because the names of the class members were taken from the roll of the school and added to the membership of the alumni association. Besides the presentation of diplomas, the valedictory address and award of diplomas, there were a number of very interesting orations and recitations. The musical numbers of the program were furnished by the high school orchestra and the Girls' Glee club.

Glee Club Pleased "Floral Wreath" by the orchestra opened the evening's entertainment. George L. McGee was the first speaker and his topic was "The Law of Right." The address was able in thought, composition and delivery. Grant Milnor Hyde spoke on "Universal Peace." He reviewed the advance that had been made toward this end and showed how our own country was leading the world in its attainment. He talked in a quiet but forceful and pleasing tone. Llewellyn L. Cannon had a most interesting and timely thesis on "The Causes of Earthquakes." He explained the various theories and dwelt at length on the generally accepted. Variety was lent to the program by a declamation, "King of Beville," by Mary E. Gage. The number pleased and applause was generous. "A Song of Spring" was delightfully rendered by the Glee club, Miss Frances Lewis playing a violin obligato. To this piece the audience demanded an encore.

"Vindication of Shylock." Bessie M. Townsend delivered an essay on "The Origin and Value of Myths." She cast light on the times, and atmosphere in which these stories were given birth and explained their worth not only to those who put faith in them, but to the present generation. In a coterie of orations the three greatest women of medieval history were taken as subjects. "Mary Queen of Scots" was the theme of Ray Heylman, "Queen Elizabeth" that of Stella C. Bowen and "Joan of Arc," that of Fannie A. McCulloch. This trio of numbers proved interesting. Another selection was then given by the Glee club, "Song of the Nixies." This also was liberally applauded and another pleasing number sung. Ethel Hodge recited "King Robert of Sicily." Miss Hodge has won honors in declamatory contests and her recitation of the piece was of course artistic. Following the production of a Shakespearean play last evening Orville B. Swift's "A Vindication of Shylock" was more than interesting. His defence of the Jew was strong and the address was well received with two readings from "The Merchant of Venice." The recitation of Shylock's famous attack on Bassanio was dramatically worthy and earned the plaudits it received.

Presentation of Diplomas Alice Roherty in behalf of the departing class presented the high school with a beautiful facsimile in colors of Humber's "Rays of the Sun." Miss Roherty spoke of the custom and the reasons for its inauguration and perpetuity. The picture was selected from the Thubert collection recently displayed at the library and was beautifully framed. While the class was assembling on the stage for the final acts of the exercises the high school orchestra played "Spring Light." Cora M. Holt, representing the graduates, delivered the valedictory address. She bade farewell to the members of the other classes, the teachers and to school life and expressed the appreciation of the class for what the taxpayers, the board of education and their employees had done for them. It was a most able address. After a few remarks apropos of the event Dr. S. E. Buckmaster, president of the school board, presented the sheepskins. When Lucy Granger and Gladys Heddies, who took the principal feminine roles in the class play, received their diplomas there was much applause. The football cheer was given for George Sennett, Albert Mahoney, John Devins, Harvey Leo and Floyd Davis, who won honors for the school in athletics. Walter Caemerer was not present to receive his diploma, being at Washington, D. C., where he is employed as a stenographer in the navy department. The class song was then rendered. This was written by Julia Bright and she led the singing. The piece was filled with humor and jokes, while here and there a few bouquets were thrown. The words were set to the catchy music of the post-comic opera season. Miss Ethel Rudolph played the piano accompaniments. At the close of the song the class yell, led by Elmer Dreyer, was given and the curtain fell on the high school careers of twenty-four young ladies and twenty-four young men.

PRESS COMMENT.

Royal Old Gent Not Whole Show. Chicago Record-Herald: Mr. and Mrs. Longworth have met King Edward, but it is probable that Mrs. Longworth was more interested in the jewelry that was worn by the ladies present than she was in the royal old gentleman with the whiskers.

They Were Uncultured Thieves. Eau Claire Leader: The La Crosse Leader-Press says: "No books were taken or molested" by the burglars who broke into the library there. What did the Leader-Press expect? That the burglars would be thirsting for Herodotus or Pliny or would be found sitting on the library steps studying the American encyclopedia?

What's This? Oshkosh Northwestern: The Janesville Recorder complains that that city is getting to be too quiet; with everything closed but the churches—saloons, gambling houses and the red light district. Perhaps we don't quite understand the situation, but on the face of it it would appear that Janesville has got about all it can stand.

How To Treat Appendicitis. Brooklyn Eagle: Dr. Chauvel, medical inspector of the French army, deals a heavy blow at the popular surgical treatment of appendicitis in a special report of a statistical nature. He shows that out of 668 cases of appendicitis in the military hospitals of France 150 were operated upon, while 480 received only medical treatment. Of the latter there were only three that resulted fatally, whereas of the much smaller number dealt with by the use of the knife, twenty-three were lost.

Only A Selfish Scramble. Chicago Chronicle: Old, ill and broken, it is impossible to deny the force and power of John Alexander Dowie. He may be a charlatan, a quack and a hypocrite, but he is the intellectual superior, ten times over, of the men who are trying to pull him down and establish themselves in his place. And this is all the more true because the issue is not one of righteousness on the one side and iniquity on the other, but of unadulterated selfishness on both sides. The fight for the control of "Zion" is a fight for the loaves and fishes.

They're Very Wary, Somehow. Green Bay Gazette: Candidates for the majority of the state offices on the republican side of the fence are not coming to the front very rapidly and those who have announced themselves appear to be not over-anxious to get onto the state with any of the candidates for governor. As a matter of fact the situation is a little press comment. A selfish one for them as they would want to pick the winner in that case, which is a pretty hard thing to do. And then, too, perhaps the candidates for governor are not anxious to compile a full slate at the present time.

Defeat Of Addicks. Exchange: The defeat of Addicks for the senate in Delaware is accepted everywhere as cause for rejoicing. For eleven years Addicks has kept up his fight and during that period he has prevented Delaware having more than one member of the United States senate. He could not secure election himself but he was strong enough to defeat any other candidate. Now he has been crushingly defeated, a new senator has been elected and it is hoped the country has heard the last of Addicks, who was an extreme example of commercialism in politics.

UP TO COUNCIL FOR FRANCHISE

H. H. CLOUGH WANTS FIFTY-YEAR FRANCHISE NOW.

PROPOSES TO BUILD ROAD

Has Option on Local Street Car Company and Would Build to Madison at Once.

H. H. Clough of Elyria, Ohio, late of the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville Interurban, is in the city today to arrange for making application for a franchise for an interurban road to Madison. This afternoon at four o'clock he is in conference with some twenty prominent business men of the city regarding the matter, and hopes through their aid and his own personal efforts to induce the council to grant him the right to carry package freight and passengers for the next fifty years between Janesville and Madison.

Much Secrecy
That Mr. Clough was here and that he was seeking a franchise was learned this morning, but all efforts to obtain information from Mr. Clough himself were unavailing. "I do not care to say anything to the papers until Monday," was his curt answer to a polite question as to the matter. Then he courteously asked a few acquaintances to partake of liquid refreshments. His visit here today and conference with the business men is for the purpose of soliciting their aid in securing his franchise is absolutely certain. He has already built his fences in Madison and taken the preliminary steps in Janesville and if successful would start building this summer.

Option on Local Road
It is known that for two months past Mr. Clough has had an option on the Janesville street railway and that the option runs for four months longer. If he secures his proposed fifty-year franchise he will put seventy thousand dollars into improvements on the local road as well as build the Madison interurban. What his price on the local road is not known, but it is supposed in the neighborhood of forty or fifty thousand dollars. This property is owned by the Blabon estate of Philadelphia and it is understood they are anxious to get rid of it.

Possible Route
It is too early to say the possible route of the road to Madison except that it will follow the line of survey that Mr. Clough had made last year just before the sale of the Rockford Interurban to the Cleveland corporation, who later merged the entire northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin lines. This would probably be through Milton or Milton Junction, Edgerton, Stoughton, via Second lake and McFarland and into Madison through South Madison, where it would connect with the Madison city line which recently sought a franchise to build to Stoughton.

A Good Thing
An interurban between Janesville and Madison would be a good thing for Janesville. It would be a fine thing for the business of the city and make the city an important electric center of the state. Mr. Beggs of the Milwaukee Electric Company has stated he intends building a line to Watertown and thence to Janesville, so a Madison connection north, the present line on the south and the proposed line to Watertown and Milwaukee on the east would mean much increased traffic. It is a matter of vital importance to the citizens and they should earnestly support Mr. Clough in his present move.

CUP SURE TO GO TO Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS

Practically Won Trophy by Taking Game From Riverbros Association, However, Protests.

Despite the fact that the Y. M. C. A. Junior team won from the Riverbros park boys yesterday afternoon at Athletic park, the Association is protesting the game and refusing to accept the trophy cup of the Janesville Junior baseball league. The losing nine played with two boys who earlier in the season were ruled out of the league for playing Sunday ball and for this reason the Y. M. C. A. is loath to consider the game as one of the schedule. At a meeting of the board of managers in the near future the matter will be taken up. If the protest of the Association is upheld the Riverbros management will doubtless forfeit and leave the cup to the Y. M. C. A. The score of yesterday's game was 30 to 17 in favor of the Association.

SCAFFOLDING BROKE C. E. RAMEY INJURED

Painter Had Left Arm Fractured and Elbow Dislocated in Accident at T. S. Nolan Residence.

While he was at work painting a portion of the second story of T. S. Nolan's residence, 201 Prospect avenue, about 7:30 this morning, the scaffolding on which C. E. Ramey, employed by Bloedel & Rice, was seated gave way and painter and paint-pails went tumbling down to the ground, the branches of a tree breaking the man's fall to some extent and undoubtedly saving him from injuries which might have proven fatal. When his fellow workers reached his side Mr. Ramey lay groaning in the grass in a pool of red and cream-colored paint. He was removed at once to his home at the corner of Dodge and Pleasant streets and Dr. Fred Sutherland was called. The physician found upon examination that the left arm was fractured and the elbow dislocated. Mr. Ramey had also sustained some severe bruises. The injuries were dressed and he is resting as easily as possible under the circumstances, this afternoon.

Miss Kate McDonald

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead; and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
